PROPOSES ABOLITION OF OFFICE OF COMPTROLLER

RESERVE BOARD'S ADVISORY COUNCIL ADOPTS RECOMMENDATION

Members Agree That Office of Comptroller Has Been Made Unnecessary by Establishment of the Reserve System.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Abolition of the office of comptroller of the currency, which has direct supervision over the operation of all national banks, was proposed today to the federal reserve board by the advisory council, created by the federal reserve act to advise the board on matters of importance to the reserve banking system.

The recommendation was adopted at a meeting attended by nine of the twelve members of the council and the vote is understood to have been unanimous. The council recently was asked to submit to the board suggestions as to legislation to be urged upon congress at the coming session and to this task today's meeting largely was devoted.

It is said the members agreed that the office of comptroller had been made unnecessary by the establishment of the reserve system and that there was bound to be a duplication of work since examinations of National banks, one of the principal functions of the comptroller's office, may be conducted by agents of the reserve board at the request of a reserve bank.

An alternative proposal was made that if the office be not abolished the examination of member banks, including National banks should be made in future exclusively by examiners of the board.

The council recommended also amendment of the reserve act to permit member banks to subscribe to the stock of joint branches in foreign countries, particularly south and central America, to permit National banks to open branches in cities in the United States and to permit member banks to count federal reserve notes as reserves. Several other suggestions considered of minor importance were advanced.

There was a general discussion of requests of the board for opinions on how to reduce the existing over expansion in loans and how to guard against evil effects that may be expected to result to the financial interests of this country following the European war.

BULGARS ATTEMPT FLANKING MOVE

Action at Babuna Pass Threatens Prilep and Monastir

ALLIES SEEK GUARANTEE

Want Positive Assurance of Safety of French, British and Serbian Troops

TEUTONS MOVE CAUTIOUSLY

BULLETIN.
PARIS, Nov. 17.—Premier Assolant of Great Britain arrived here last night accompanied by Foreign Secretary Sir Edward Grey; minister of munitions, Lloyd George, and First Lord of the Admiralty, Balfour. The object of their visit has not been disclosed.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—With the increasing gravity from the allies' viewpoint of the military situation in Serbia, the attitude of Greece toward the armies of the entente powers has become a matter of the deepest concern and an effort is being made to induce the Greek government to define its intentions.

Seek Positive Guarantee of Safety.
It is said the presence at Salonika of a large number of French and British warships with transports has made some impression on King Constantine and his advisers. But, with so much at stake, nothing short of a positive guarantee of the safety of the French, British and Serbian troops should they be compelled to retire into Greece will satisfy London and Paris, the ministers of which capitals are being strongly supported by the Russian and Italian representatives.

The presence of Lord Kitchener, the British secretary for war, in the Aegean and of Denys Cochin, a member of the French cabinet, at Athens, it is hoped will help to clear up the complicated situation. The time, however, is short, for the Bulgarians have been strongly reinforced both in central and southern Serbia and besides attempting a flanking movement against the Serbians at Babuna Pass, thereby threatening Prilep and Monastir, are opposing formidable forces of the French at Gradska and along the left bank of the Cerna.

Thus far the Serbians are holding the Babuna Pass and the French their original position but the pressure is necessarily being felt by troops who have been fighting for days without cessation.

Austro-Germans Move Cautiously.
In the north the Austro-Germans who have joined hands with the Bulgarians west of Nish, are moving slowly and steadily but cautiously owing to the presence of the unbroken Montenegrins with perhaps other support, harassing them in the west.

A despatch received tonight from Vienna by way of Zurich says British and Italian troops are endeavoring to reach the battlefield where the Serbians are waiting them but does not say from what point they are proceeding. On the other fronts there is little to report.

On the Styrian river, however, the Russians are still fighting for the river crossings.

In the worst the weather is wintry and there has been only artillery and mining activity.

BLAST IMPRISONS THIRTY-FOUR MEN

Rescuers Penetrate as Far as Third Level of Coal Mine

THREE RESCUED ALIVE

Total Known Dead Is Four and Twenty-Seven Men Still Are Missing

BELIEVE MISSING MEN DEAD

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 16.—Thirty-four men were imprisoned today in the northwestern Improvement company's coal mine at Ravensdale, 35 miles south of Seattle, as the result of an explosion of coal dust in the main slope. Early tonight four men had been removed by a rescue team sent by the United States bureau of mines from Seattle. One was dead but the others were revived by the use of pulmonary.

Rescue parties are working industriously to reach thirty men still unaccounted for, who are believed entombed in the third level.

Blows Top Off Hoist House.
The explosion broke the top off the main hoist house, sending fire, timber and debris high into the air.

The explosion wrecked the telephone lines thruout the mine, making it impossible to communicate with the interior workings.

The ventilation system remained in working order, however, and the first level was cleared of gas but because of the debris, the lower levels could not be purified. The first level was filled with debris and it was feared the bridges below the second level are destroyed.

Late tonight rescuers succeeded in penetrating as far as the third level, where the thirty missing men are believed to be, at the entrance of this level they found two timbermen. One of these was alive, but died soon after he was taken to the surface. The other was dead.

The body of the foreman was recovered a little later making the total of known dead four while three injured were rescued and twenty-seven men still were missing.

Most of the men were married and had large families.

Find Third Level Burning.
The third level in which the men were entombed is 1,500 feet below the surface. Rescuers who succeeded in reaching the third level thru an auxiliary shaft found that the level was burning. The intense heat and thick black smoke made it impossible for the rescuers to penetrate further than the foreman's office at the entrance of the workings. Debris was found piled to the ceiling of the level.

Wall had crumbled and roofs fallen in as a result of the explosion. Foreman Kane's body was found seated in a chair in front of his desk. He had been burned to death. Superintendent R. D. Scott, who is directing the rescue work, said late tonight he believed there was no hope that any of the missing men would be found alive.

They will each have four submerged torpedo tubes, secondary batteries and twenty-two five-inch guns and four three-inch rifles for repelling air attacks. They will be 624 feet over all, breadth 97 feet 8 inches, and will draw 30 feet of water.

The new vessels will be the largest and most formidable warships ever designed for the American navy, and in addition to formidable main batteries of twelve 14-inch rifles each, will be provided with new safeguards against torpedoes attack. The nature of this invention adopted to protect the dreadnoughts from torpedoes is not given out, but it is known that lessons learned from the European War have been given careful consideration by the navy's experts who developed the device.

CHARGES BRITISH STAFF WITH INCOMPETENCY

BARON ST. DAVIDS BRINGS CHARGE IN HOUSE OF LORDS

Asserts Troops Have Broken the German Lines More Than Once But the Whole Thing Fell Thru Owing to Bad Staff Work.

London, Nov. 16.—Charges of incompetency and neglect of their work were brought against the British staff in France by Baron St. Davids in the house of lords this evening when he asked the government whether its attention had been called to the reports alleging that during the recent fighting there had been many complaints as to failures of the staff work.

Lord St. Davids asserted that men had been added to the staff and that he had been told the British headquarters' staff was five or six times as large as that of General Joffre, the French commander-in-chief. It had been stated, he continued, that women visited headquarters in France and asked whether the government defended their presence there.

The people were sending their sons out to fight under the direction of men who he declared were living at headquarters in vast numbers and could not get early to their offices because they were "up late playing bridge."

"It is about time," said Lord St. Davids, "that the men were given a fair chance. More than once the troops have broken the German lines but owing to bad staff work the whole thing fell thru. Many lives have been sacrificed owing to muddling in high places."

The Marquis of Crewe, Lord Privy Seal, replied that allegations that success at Loos had been missed owing to the failure to bring up reserves at the right time was the subject of an inquiry between the highest authorities that could be invoked.

Baron Newton, who said he was unable to disclose the number of the British staff, defended it, as did also Viscount Haldane, the former secretary for war.

Lord Haldane declared that Lord St. Davids had launched his attack without adequate information.

ALLEGED CREW WAS PANIC STRICKEN

Austrian Officials State Loss of a Single Life Was Unnecessary

ALLOWED AMPLE TIME

Captain of Ancona Was Given Almost Ninety Minutes for Safe Removal of Passengers

U.S. TO ASK FOR STATEMENT

VIENNA, via Berlin, by wireless to Sayville, N. Y., Nov. 16.—The full report of the commander of the submarine, which recently sank the Italian liner Ancona in the Mediterranean has not been received, but the report on which the statement sent out Sunday by the Austro-Hungarian admiralty, was based, showed according to authoritative officials that the loss of a single life was unnecessary.

Charge Crew Was Panic Stricken.

It is alleged that the crew of the Ancona were panic stricken from the beginning and actually lowered life boats while the ship was moving fourteen miles an hour. These boats naturally were swamped, but it is asserted that there were still enough life boats to save everybody. Furthermore the charge is made that the members of the crew pre-empted the boats and rowed far from the steamer, the captain of which had been allowed almost ninety minutes for the safe removal of those aboard.

An Austrian official remarked incidentally that the same panic stricken conduct was reported in the case of the Italian crew of the liner Firenze which was sunk after the Ancona.

It is announced that the government has in its possession the original instructions to all Italian shipmasters to attempt to ram a submarine or escape, depending on the relative positions at the time of an attack.

Listed as Auxiliary Cruiser.

It is pointed out in official quarters here that the commander of the submarine which sank the Ancona had no means of knowing whether the steamer was a peaceful outward bound passenger ship or a transport, and it is declared that he was even justified in suspecting her to be a warship as she is listed in the international naval register as an auxiliary cruiser, with a provisional armament of 12-centimeter guns.

"In any event," said the informant of the Associated Press, "the submarine commander did his duty in challenging, and when the ship started in flight he had no alternative but to open fire. Whether the submarine would have halted the Ancona if it were known she was a passenger ship bound for America is an academic question."

Government circles expect that no action will be taken by the United States.

Pending to Ask for Statement.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Ambassador Penfield at Vienna was instructed by cable today to ask the Austro-Hungarian foreign office for a statement regarding the torpedoing of the Italian liner Ancona in the Mediterranean last week with a loss of several American lives.

This action was taken upon the presentation by the Austrian embassy here to Secretary Lansing of a communication from the Vienna admiralty stating that an Austrian submarine sank the Ancona and asserting that ample time for the passengers and crew to escape was afforded. Until responsibility for the action of the submarine, which it had been reported was of German nationality, was thus officially assumed the American government withheld formal inquiry at Vienna.

To Discuss Case Orally.

Ambassador Penfield was sent what is known as an informal instruction to discuss the case orally with the officials of the Austrian government to obtain details supplementary to those transmitted by the embassy. The undetermined points on which the American government now seeks information are:

Did the submarine fire a warning shot?

Did the submarine cease firing when the Ancona came to a stop?

How much time was given passengers and crew to get into the life boats?

What were the activities of the submarine while the ship was unloading its passengers?

Was a torpedo fired while any of the passengers were aboard?

To Work Convicts on Roads Again.
Another experiment in using convicts for road improvement is now in progress in the southern part of the state. Fifty convicts from the penitentiary at Chester are working on the road from the penitentiary to Ava in Jackson county. Senator Kent Keller started the movement for the building of this road and citizens contributed $2,500 for the maintenance of the convict camp. Each prisoner will be allowed one day off his sentence for every two days' labor on the road. No special guards have been provided and the men in charge are unarmed. It is an honor camp and the results will be watched with interest in the hope that the expectations may be more satisfactorily met than has been true in some other cases in Illinois where the honor system has been put to a test.

If the American producer and the foreign producer should both be assured that free trade would be the permanent policy of the United States, one of two things would happen—either the American workman would come very close to the foreign standard of wages and living, or he would cease to produce articles which can be produced by foreigners. Fortunately, both Americans and foreigners know that free trade is only a temporary policy and that within a very short time the American people will resume command of their own markets. Hence, the American producer does not give up his industries nor does the foreigner make the large investments that would be necessary to supply our markets fully. We merely curtail our expenses, cut out luxuries, live economically, maintain bread lines and take advantage of the partial relief afforded by foreign war.

Must Have Better Country School Buildings.

When the fact becomes generally known among the school directors about the law governing the subject it is likely that a great many country school buildings will be materially changed. The state superintendent of public instruction Francis G. Blair has had plans drawn for model school buildings and the specifications will be put in pamphlet form and sent out to school officials throughout the state. New buildings must be erected in accordance with these specifications and the law also will apply to any school building after March 1, 1917.

The penalty for failure to observe the laws and requirements such school will not share in the state distributive fund. In many school districts this is quite an important matter and to cut off money from the distributive fund will mean a greater loss than the expense which would be incurred by complying with the law's requirements. The specifications give details for heating, ventilation, lighting, seating, water supply, etc., in accordance with the best thought on these subjects but the superintendent has kept in mind the financial limitations of some school districts.

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

THE GREAT BLESSING

We have much reason to be grateful since there's no warfare, grim and hateful, within this smiling country's borders; we slay not at some marshall's orders. In Europe men are now preparing for months of freezing and despairing; they'll spend the winter in the trenches, while foes, with guns and monkey wrenches, make daily efforts to dislodge them, and they'll be too blamed cold to dodge them. Oh, when you're seated in your rocker, with trusty pipe and shilling shocker, with peace and comfort all around you think how your trans-Atlantic cousins are being shot up by the dozens. There are no comforts in the trenches; no rocking chairs or padded benches; there are no sprightly evening papers to tell the latest football capers. The men must stand in muddy water, and wield the musket and the swatter, and shiver in the biting blizzard, which freezes them from nose to gizzard. Oh, think of that while you are rocking before the fire, and blithely talking of White House brides and income taxes—think of the swords and battle axes!

After all efforts had failed to get persons to whom the government lent money to enable them to return from Europe, when the war broke out, a list of delinquents was published in the papers. Since that time the United States treasury has been reimbursed to the extent of about $8000 and still further payments have been promised. Publicity did the work when nothing else would.

If the department will now indicate that a list of all those who pay up is to be published in January a great many others will no doubt hurry forward and make amends for their former negligence. It's almost inconceivable that those who were aided so generously by Uncle Sam have not "come across" long ago as this was certainly a debt of honor.

Belleville Rate Case Not Ended
The joy of Belleville citizens over the reduction in gas rates from $1.25 to $1 ordered by the utility commission has been short lived, as the company thru the Sangamon court has secured an order which permits the old rates to stand. An appeal was taken to the Sangamon court in accordance with the provisions of the utility commission act, and now the indications are that the case will be fought out in the courts to the end. It seemed necessary to include in the utility commission act provisions for a court appeal by either party to any rate hearing, but this very fact makes one of the weak spots in the protection afforded by the existence of the utility commission. The period of investigation after complaint has been filed with the commission is necessarily long, then the taking of evidence occupies a still longer period and with the right of appeal there comes the further possibility of a case dragging along thru the courts for a number of years. In the case of the Illinois commission, when one contemplates the vast number of cases which may come before them, it is easy to estimate that the commission might soon have a much more crowded calendar than any court in the state. This fact is one of the best arguments Chicago people have for home rule with reference to their utilities, for if the Illinois commission were not responsible for the conduct of utilities in Chicago there would be more time for the settlement of problems relating to downstate cities.

Resources.
Poverty has always been considered a calamity. It is, provided we understand in what real poverty consists.

Real poverty is a lack of resources.

False poverty, which is often no poverty at all, is a lack of things.

A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things which he possesseth. Very often you find people with plenty of money, with a large house full of costly furniture, with horses and carriages and automobiles, with rich clothing and expensive food and drink, who are yet wretched, bored and miserable, so that they turn to drunkenness and vice for entertainment.

They have no inward resources. And for that no amount of possessions can compensate.

On the other hand, people of limited means, who have to work daily for a living, and whose worldly goods are next to nothing, are often cheerful, bright, glad to be alive and truly rich in spirit. They are wealthy, for they have interests and a dozen interests are worth more than a million dollars' worth of things.

There is a deal of nonsense uttered about sorrows of the poor. The happiest class of people in the world are those who have to work for a living, who have to get up when the bell rings, and to go to bed on time.

And the most miserable folks I know are those who have nothing to do to amuse themselves. The wretchedest section of the world is the Smart Set, whose business it is merely to indulge themselves, to spend money they have not earned, and to experiment in inventing new immoralities.

The poorest people on earth are those that have no resources but to buy things too costly for others to buy, to intoxicate themselves with various forms of alcohol, and to substitute the excitement of disloyalty for the joys of true love.

Pity, do not envy, these unfortunates, for their poverty is terrible.

But pity no man who loves his work and works hard enough to enjoy his leisure; pity no woman who is interested in home-making and in her children; pity no person at all who has found the secret of "plain living and high thinking."—Dr. Frank Crane, in Woman's World for November.

—the real family car

The Detroit Electric is so easy to operate that every member of the family can drive it with absolute confidence and safety. You get the maximum use of a car in the Detroit Electric because your wife and daughter never have to depend upon the hired chauffeur nor wait until you can release yourself from business to drive them about. Remember—the real value of every automobile is determined by its months of use more often than by its miles of use, therefore it is relatively the same whether the car has stood idle in front of your office or has been driven by the family during your business hours. Consequently the car which can be used the most each day returns the greatest value on the investment.

WILLIAM H. WATSON DIES AT WINCHESTER

FORMER MORGAN COUNTY RES-IDENT ANSWERS FINAL SUM-
MONS.

Had Been in Failing Health for Some Time—Two Sons Attended Illinois
College—Funeral Announcement
Later—Elmer Dill Meets With Accident.

William H. Watson of Winchester, died Tuesday morning at 11:30 o'clock at the family residence. He had been in poor health for two years and seriously ill for the past ten days.

Mr. Watson was widely known in Morgan and Scott counties. For a great many years he followed the occupation of a farmer near Lynxville. From there he moved to Jacksonville, where he lived a short time and then went to Winchester some 7 years ago to make his home. Mr. Watson was a man of jovial disposition and his actions were above reproach in every way. He was successful as a farmer and stock raiser, but of late years had retired from active farm life. He always took a keen interest in the affairs of the community and was ever ready to lend assistance to those in need. He was a member of the Primitive Baptist church and was ever faithful to his church vows.

He was born Nov. 27, 1840, and had he lived a few days longer would have reached the age of 75 years. He was married three times. His first marriage was to Miss Tuke; his second marriage to Miss Anna Combs and his third wife, Miss Electa Fisher, survives him. He also leaves the following children, Mrs. Charles D. Taylor, Winchester; Mrs. James Masters, Sand Point, Idaho; Miss Catherine Watson, East Liverpool, Ohio; Fred of Lynxville, George of York, Penn., and Benjamin of Kansas City. He also leaves one brother John Watson of Lynxville. Two of the sons George and Ben attended Illinois college, the former graduating with the class of 1903.

The funeral services will be held at Winchester the time to be announced later.

Funeral of Mrs. Hankins.
Funeral services for Mrs. Rebekah Hankins were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Christian church, in charge of Rev. G. E. Prewitt, a large number of relatives and friends being present. Music was furnished by Rev. and Mrs. Prewitt, Nicholas Demmereth and Guy Paul. Burial was made in the Winchester cemetery and the bearers were nephews of the deceased.

Injured by Fall.
Elmer Dill, who went out napping on the farm of Thomas O'Donnell, in company with Otis Linders, met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon. Dill crawled out on a rotten hickory limb which broke. He fell several feet, tearing the ligaments from his ankle. He was taken to Jacksonville by Dr. J. W. Eckman, where an X-ray picture was taken at Passavant hospital, of the injury. It was found that no bones were broken and Dr. Dill returned to Winchester last night.

S. Brigham, commissioner of agriculture for Vermont; C. P. Norgard, commissioner for Wisconsin; H. J. Wheeler, formerly director of the Rhode Island experiment station; Dr. L. R. Jones, specialist in plant diseases, University of Wisconsin, and R. A. Moore, secretary of the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment association.

Every phase of the growing and marketing of potatoes will be considered by the experts, and exhibits will be shown from the leading potato growing counties of the state, as well as by schools and individuals.

NAVY LEAGUE PLANS

SURVEY OF RESOURCES

Washington, Nov. 16—The directors of the Navy League gathered in conference today, following the demonstration for national defense by American women. Reports have been received of the progress of the organization in each state, and these are so encouraging that plans for the future extension of the work toward preparedness will be devised today. The state chairmen are reporting this morning. This afternoon the idea of investigating the resources of the country toward registering and organizing them so that they may be available for the country's defense quickly and without confusion, will be threshed out, and some plan of action along this line will be adopted.

The Navy League will also take up today the plans for making the league an instrument for the spread of ideals of national service and practical patriotism.

WILL HOLD SALE TODAY.

Livestock belonging to L. L. Ticknor and personal property belonging to the estate of the late L. F. Ticknor will be sold at public auction at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the Ticknor farm six miles northwest of the city.

BLIND ALUMNI CELEBRATES TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 16—Many graduates who are "making good" in their life work in various spheres of usefulness returned today to Western Pennsylvania Institution for the Blind, to celebrate the 25th anniversary of their school. A reception and open house will be a feature of the day. Many of the blind graduates have made fortunes, scores are practical business men and women.

William H. Long, director of the workshop for the blind in Pittsburg, was the first student enrolled, and he will make a speech. Miss Jennie Snyder of Apollo, Pa., is a stenographer and a maker of fancy work. A half dozen of the returning alumni are piano tuners. Miss May H. Levy of Crafton is assistant to the director of the kindergarten at the institution. Miss Jean Cowan owns and operates a large ranch in Montana. She took a large government tract for a homestead and has improved the property. Frank Gaston conducts and owns a grocery and confectionery store in New Castle. Miss Bertha May Johnson is a home teacher for the New Jersey Commission for the Blind. Morris Bundy is an evangelist, and Stephen Huff is a life insurance agent. Miss Jennie Johnston is a teacher in the Nebraska School for the Blind. Miss Minnie Smith owns a store in Salem, Ore. Miss Matiel Davis, a Syrian girl, is teaching a mission school in Jerusalem. John T. Taylor conducts a boarding school in Detroit.

There are 57,272 blind persons in the United States, according to the last census, and the equipping of the handicapped here is a message of hope to them. It is also pointed out from the statistics that blindness is decreasing among the younger Americans in the last half century. It is also a fact that the affliction is more prevalent among men than among women. Several thousand blind persons have already become self-supporting by instruction at institutions throughout the country.

Marburg's Daughter Weds Diplomat From Holland at Baltimore, Md.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 16—Diplomats and society leaders from Washington, Philadelphia, New York and Chicago are among the many guests arriving for the wedding of Miss Christine Marburg, daughter of Hon. Theodore Marburg, former United States Minister to Belgium, which takes place this evening. The groom is Jonkheer van Starckenborgh-Stachhouwer, an attaché of the Netherlands Legation in Washington, whose home is in Groeningen, Holland. The Netherlands minister Chevalier U. L. F. C. Van Rappard, will be the best man at the wedding and a generous sprinkling of other European diplomats gives the finishing touch to the international setting of the wedding.

The ceremony will take place in the presence of a large assemblage of guests, in old St. Paul's church, at 6 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Arthur Barksdale Kinsolving, rector of the church will officiate and the Rt. Rev. John Gardner Murray, Bishop of Maryland, will give the blessing. A large reception will follow at the Marburg residence.

The parents of the groom were unable to make the trip from Philadelphia for the wedding, owing to war conditions, and Miss Marburg's brother, Theodore Marburg, Jr., was unable to come, as he is a second lieutenant in the Royal Flying Corps now stationed at Dover, England.

Miss Marburg first met Mr. van Starckenborgh-Stachhouwer at Brussels where her father was United States Minister. Her fiancé was then secretary of the Netherlands legation in Brussels. Today they will wed after a pretty romance, in which Miss Marburg is a delightful heroine. The young diplomat secured a transfer to the Washington embassy so that he might continue his wooing. The romance, which began during Belgium's happier days, was merely transferred to America, and has been approved as one of the real international love matches of the present day.

Miss Marie Grainger of Wilmington, N. C., will be maid of honor for her cousin, and the bridesmaids will be: Miss Elaine Van Dyke, daughter of the present U. S. Minister to Holland, Miss Helen Taft, daughter of the former President, Miss Julia Brent Keyser, Miss Anne Winslow Williams, Miss Elizabeth C. Jones, and Miss Margaretta Pleasants Bonnell.

A banquet will be served to the coffee roasters that evening at which the ambassador is billed to speak.

DID PERILOUS SCOUTING WORK DURING CIVIL WAR

Exciting Career of George M. Harper of Chicago Who is Visiting in Morgan County.

Jacksonville had a visitor yesterday, a man who has had a career worthy of more than ordinary mention. He is George M. Harper of Chicago, at present a guest of R. B. Walker, south of Murrayville, where he has been staying a while for his health which was much shattered.

When the war broke out Mr. Harper was a resident of Louisville, Kentucky, a youth of twenty, but so small that he would be considered much younger. With many others he joined the home guards under the command of Col. Bland Duncan and General Buckner of Confederate fame, but the latter wanted the boys to go south and join the forces against the union and took with him all he could get and history tells of the part he played in the great conflict.

Young Harper loved the stars and stripes too well to fight against them and he left the south and made his way north to Illinois. Here he wanted to join the army but was so small that the recruiting officer wouldn't take him so he went elsewhere and said he was sixteen and didn't say he was any more, and so he secured admission as a drummer boy with Co. H., 35th Illinois Infantry. This was July 3, 1861 and he saw hard service for thirteen months when his health gave way and he was discharged for physical disability and so firm a hold had the disease upon him it took nearly a year to get back to health again enough to enable him to enlist.

At last he felt strong enough and returned to Louisville where he enlisted in the 55th Ken. Mounted Infantry and then he saw service in deed looking after rebel guerrillas and protecting union people. He saw plenty of fighting and had narrow escapes. For bravery he was promoted to first lieutenant of Co. G, and fought with his command till the end of the war.

It was while he was in this line of duty that the famous Morgan was flying hither and thither with his ubiquitous forces and at one time a perilous duty was asked, no less than that of a spy into Morgan's camp to learn something of the plans of the man who spread such terror in the regions he invaded. The young officer donned a rebel uniform and made his way along as best he could taking his life in his hand for no mercy or quarter was ever shown one in such work if caught. Being of southern birth and raising he could the more easily pass himself off as a genuine son of the Confederacy and he succeeded in his perilous mission. Several times he came most uncomfortably near being captured and the story of his adventure on this occasion would make a thrilling narrative.

Morgan had his plans to cross the river into northern territory at Westport and he was puzzled to know how it came that the place was guarded and gunboats ready to greet him if he made the attempt. The young lieutenant could have informed him but for best reasons did not do so and Morgan crossed at another point later, was captured, put in prison and dug his way out.

The gentleman is of a pleasing address. He is one of the oldest Knights of Pythias in the state and a member of Belmont Lodge No. 400, Chicago. He is also an Odd Fellow.

MET WITH ACCIDENT.

Mrs. T. R. Hull of Pennsylvania avenue had the misfortune to fall from a porch yesterday, fracturing her left arm. An X-ray picture was taken of the fracture.

LOGAN BLACK'S FARM HOME OF SHETLAND PONIES

Farmer Residing East of City Has Model Place—Something of His Stock.

One of the men who is fixed to live and enjoy life is Logan Black who resides two miles east of the city. Among other attractions he has a fine orchard which he cares for, concrete walks all about his place, a neat summer house and other convenient structures, patent gates and various things calculated to make living a pleasure.

About the place the visitor noted some fine, thoroughbred White Brahma chickens, fat and plump, large and well favored. The hen house is well fitted with screened windows which can be opened in summer and closed at will in the winter. The roosts are after the most approved pattern so that when the fowls are at home at night they are in their proper places. Care is taken with whitewash and disinfectant to keep the poultry free from vermin. The nests are in a row on one side and access to them is gained by simply lifting a lid as the long box or drawer with partitions for separate nests extends outside the building and can be reached either from within or without.

He has no incubators as he doesn't try to raise very large numbers of fowls. For hens with broods he has sheet iron brooding coops, safe from vermin and capable of being cleaned at will. He likes the White Brahmas as they are good layers and of such size that when one is killed there is something to eat.

Shetland Ponies. Of course the Shetland ponies are the prime attraction on that farm and there are in all forty-two of the midgets and handsome they are too. For the stallions he has several playhouses eight by twelve but large enough for the tiny occupants and well kept and prepared for their diminutive lordships. In one Mr. Black showed a little beauty sold to a gentleman in Pennsylvania. When he was at Cleveland with his string some months ago one of the judges of ponies saw him and his list and when a friend wanted a pony Mr. Black was recommended to him and sold the animal. He sold Adolphus Bush III, a handsome little creature, "Plumed Knight," for $700.

Every one of his ponies is registered in the stud book of Shetland ponies and he has nothing on his place but noble blood in that line. The leader of the list is his famous "Prince Hal," which won the champion ribbon of the American pony club at Cleveland, Ohio, and a silver cup trophy and did the same last year. His little creatures are as tame as kittens and follow him about the place and permit all sorts of familiarity. For the breeding mares he has a large shed open to the south, well supplied with straw and as comfortable as possible for it is a well known fact that breeding animals simply must rough it to produce the best results. The great trouble with him is to prevent his ponies, and especially too fat, and Ireland and colors when small if clipped and groomed they nearly always become dapple when mature. For his weanlings he gets from $75 up and for his full grown $100 and upward. He well understands the business, is fixed for it and it is a pleasant part of his life.

In his barn are a few of the opposite style of animals, draft, big and heavy, raised for the city market where they are in demand. His barn is well arranged with partitions for the various kinds of stock, a large apartment for the young ponies and a capacious mow holding a large quantity of hay and straw.

In a shed he pointed out some bundles of tobacco leaves raised on the farm formerly owned by his mother in Kentucky, near Hopkinsville. The quality is choice and for smoking Mr. Black mixes it with commercial tobacco with good results.

NEW LIGHTING SYSTEM.

The advent of the gasoline engine and storage battery has made possible electric lighting in any part of the country where an outfit can be secured. G. A. Sieber's force are going out daily in their Ford car to the residence of J. W. Arnold at Arnold station, and placing in his residence and outbuildings wiring for the new light which he will have. He runs the engine and dynamo long enough to charge the storage battery and then can turn on the lights anywhere at any time. C. F. Corrington, north of New Berlin is having a similar plant installed and the new Methodist Episcopal church at Concord will have one. This is a new departure and will be a strong competitor with acetylene gas which will hardly be regarded as desirable as electricity though of course cheaper to install.

ATTENTION PATRIARCHS.

Some Topics of the Farm

WHAT IS RURAL CREDIT?

(By W. W. Powell, Former Secretary of the Wisconsin Board of Public Affairs.)

Rural credits means money for the farmer.

Everyone understands that in a vague, indefinite sort of way.

But how is the farmer to get the money he needs—on what terms, what security, what rate of interest and for what length of time?

And why does the farmer need any special advantages not already provided under the present banking system?

Not only are these questions to be discussed at the Third National Conference on Marketing and Farm Credits, to be held at Chicago, Nov. 29 to Dec. 2, but they are to be answered by the drafting of a rural credits bill to be submitted to congress at the opening of the coming session.

Then what is rural credit? To begin with, the farmer must wait upon the seasons. He cannot speed the earth upon its axis, or hasten it upon its course around the sun. His returns come when the seasons have run their course. He can borrow money at the bank if he has ample security, but he needs a longer time in which to repay the bank than does the merchant. The storekeeper borrows for sixty or ninety days. He turns his stock of goods in that time and can repay the bank. The farmer needs his loans for a longer period. He needs it when he puts the seed in the ground, but he is not ready to repay until the crop is grown, harvested and marketed.

Do not the banks give him the accommodations he needs?

Some banks in some communities do. But most banks find it more to their liking to loan money on short time, sixty or ninety day paper. They are lending money to their depositors. They must have their loans so arranged as to the time when they fall due and are collectable that the depositors can get his money when he asks for it. Consequently, the banker prefers to loan these funds upon short time paper. The short-time loan makes easier banking.

This limitation, inherent in present banking methods, makes it necessary to provide for an extension of the banking system. For agriculture is the great fundamental industry, and when the farmer needs money for his seasonal operations the welfare of the entire country requires that he should have it—and have it upon terms which do not lay upon him a greater burden than he can bear. European countries have met just these conditions and have worked them out to the salvation of the farmer and the benefit of all Europe. The banking system of Germany, France and Russia, of Denmark, Holland and Switzerland, of England, Scotland and Ireland have been extended by the formation of co-operative credit associations. These co-operative societies, picking up the unlimited credit of every member, borrow of the banks and in turn reloan the money to individual farmers, many of whom are too poor and have too little security to enable them to secure even a small loan direct from the bank.

But this is personal credit. The money so provided is used for farm operations. What about the man who wants to buy a farm?

Europe has met and solved this problem also. Some states in this country, notably Wisconsin, have made some progress along the same line. In Wisconsin, it is possible to buy a farm and have twenty years or more in which to pay off the mortgage. The ordinary farm mortgage runs from five to ten years. And usually when it falls due, the farmer has to renew the mortgage or permit it to be foreclosed. And renewing a mortgage at reasonable rate of interest is not any easy task, and often requires the payment of a commission to the agent who finds some one with capital to invest in the mortgage. And this is both expensive and discouraging.

In Wisconsin, there are several farm mortgage associations patterned after the land banks of Germany and other European countries. The land mortgage association takes a mortgage on the land, deposits the mortgage with the state treasurer, issues bonds against the mortgage and sells the bonds to the banks. This is some red tape to be sure, but it operates to make the farm mortgage a fluid security; that is, a security easily disposed of. The bonds are for $100, $500 or $1,000, and they pass as other bonds, current for their face value. There is no need for looking up title to the land, as in the case of a mortgage. There is no need for inspecting the land as the underlying security of the bond. The state does all that. The land mortgage association guarantees the interest. The buyer of the bonds is protected by the regulations of the state upon the issuance of these bonds. A banker can buy them, and if he needs money to meet the immediate demands of depositors, he can pass these bonds on to another bank who are looking for safe, gilt-edged investments. In either event, he can get the money when any time he needs it. And that makes of the farm mortgage, on which the bonds are issued, a liquid security.

Farms Near City.

Just east of the city is a farm of 150 acres owned by Joseph Brown and farmed by William Nunes in such a manner that though the land was well worn and thin when taken in hand a few years ago it is getting better each year though it is cropped right along. The stan-

It is Just Natural To Admire Babies

Our altruistic nature impels love for the cooling infant. And at the same time the subject of motherhood is ever before us. To know what to do that will add to the physical comfort of expectant motherhood is a subject that has interested most women of all times. One of the real helpful things is an external abdominal application sold in most drug stores under the name of "Mother's Friend." We have known so many grandmothers, who in their younger days relied upon this remedy, and who recommend it to their own daughters that it certainly must be what its name indicates. They have used it for its direct influence upon the muscles, cords, ligaments and tendons as it aims to afford relief from the strain and pain so often unnecessarily severe during the period of expectancy.

Every woman should mention "Mother's Friend" when the stork is the subject of conversation. An interesting little book is mailed free upon application to Bradfield Regulator Co., 505 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It refers to many things that women like to read about. It also contains more complete directions than could be put upon a label. It refers not only to the relief from muscle strain due to their expansion but also to nausea, morning sickness, caking of breasts.

Get or recommend a bottle of "Mother's Friend" to-day and write for the book. The effect of this splendid external application is an expression of the thousands of women who have successfully used it and recommended it through two generations.

Combing Won't Rid Hair Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and never fails to do the work.

Has Faith in Quick Remedy For Catarrh

Coover & Shreve Guarantee That Hyomei Will Relieve the Worst Case of Catarrh in Jacksonville.

When one of the most reputable concerns in Jacksonville guarantees that a medicine will produce benefit or they will refund the money, it speaks volumes for the merits of that remedy. It is in this way that Coover & Shreve are selling Hyomei, the treatment that has helped so many cases of both acute and chronic catarrh in Jacksonville and vicinity.

Hyomei is not a pill nor is it a spray or a lotion that must be rubbed in. It is an oil, the air of which you just breathe in your nose, throat and lungs by the aid of an inhaler that comes with every outfit. Benefit will usually be seen from the very first treatment.

This aid destroys all germ life in the air passages and lungs and enriches and purifies the blood with the additional ozone it supplies. It banishes catarrh of the head and throat and respiratory organs. Wherever these mucous membranes contain catarrhal germs, these Hyomei will do its work of healing. When using this treatment, the air you breathe will be found like that on the mountains high above the sea level, where grow the balsamic trees and plants which make the air pure by giving off volatile anti-septic fragrance that is healing to the respiratory organs.

The complete Hyomei outfit is inexpensive and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks treatment.

Remember that if Hyomei does not relieve you Coover & Shreve will refund your money. This is a good time to get rid of catarrh by this natural method and prevent catarrhal colds that are so common at this season.—Adv.

A CHILD HATES OIL, CALOMEL, PILLS FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Give "California Syrup of Figs" if Cross, Sick, Feverish, Constipated.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

STOMACH ACTS FINE! NO INDIGESTION, GAS, HEART BURN, ACIDITY

"Pape's Diapepsin" Fixes Sick, Sour, Upset Stomachs in Five Minutes.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs. Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain, unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them, if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headaches, dizziness and nausea, eruptions of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such disorders vanish. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.—Adv.

VISIT TO MORTON SCHOOL EAST OF JACKSONVILLE

Pupils are Bright and Interesting and Miss Irma F. Kepler is the Teacher in Charge.

Situated two miles east of the city and along, or near the track of the Wabash railroad is the Morton schoolhouse and thither the writer bent his steps Tuesday morning for a visit with the school. The building is in prime condition; good seats, a heating apparatus that almost heated the visitor even though the air was very chill, good light that does not come from the front, a good library, a cabinet organ in tune and usable, a good blackboard, two entry ways or vestibules, one for boys and one for girls, fuel shed and other conveniences.

The premises are comfortably large though lacking in shade trees. Access from the road is hard and steps have been suggested and will doubtless be supplied in due season. The fence too has been a fence rather long without replenishing. The lacks are insignificant, however, and the directors, Messrs. James Rawlings, Patrick Dowling and Logan Black, will doubtless see to them in due season.

The visit of the writer was indeed much enjoyed. The talk was about lands far beyond the seas and the children were bright and seemed to enjoy all that was said to them. Questions are always desired and the children are urged to ask them. Sometimes the little folks are shy and fail to respond and it seemed for a while as if the boys and girls of the Morton school would be that way but after they got started they kept on in good shape and asked a lot of things which showed they appreciated and to a reasonably good degree apprehended what was said to them.

The teacher, Miss Irma F. Kepler, seemed well fitted for her work and to handle such a lively lot of youngsters is no trifling task. What they can't think of is hardly worth mentioning and they need attention all the time.

Here, as in some other places, the ages average rather young and it is a good thing to see the rising generation drinking early from the fountain of knowledge. The writer predicts for the pupils of the Morton school a good and prosperous future if they will be studious and faithful, obedient to their parents and teacher and make the best use of the advantages they enjoy.

"DISTRESS FOR RENT" CASE OCCUPIES ATTENTION OF COURT

After Decision Had Been Rendered Parties Got Together and Elect Compromise—Entries Made.

While there were no jury cases in the circuit court Tuesday, the court, nevertheless, was kept busy all day. A number of entries were made in peoples cases and several other cases were set for trial. The prisoners in the criminal cases were brought into the court at the morning session and some disposed of and hearing set in others.

One of the principal cases in the afternoon was the case of Farwell Wagstaff vs Carl Bacon, the case being distress for rent. Mr. Wagstaff was represented by J. O. Priest while W. N. Hairgrove appeared for the defendant. By agreement of parties the case was tried by the court without a jury. After hearing the evidence Judge Jones gave his decision.

In rendering his decision Judge Jones reviewed the evidence that had been presented. The court emphasized the fact that no preponderance of evidence had been presented by either side. He called attention to the fact that Mr. Wagstaff and Mr. Bacon when on the stand made opposite statements and that so far as he knew both were men of standing and their evidence equally creditable. Judge Jones in his decision ordered that Bacon, the defendant pay to Wagstaff the sum of $56 which appeared to be due for rent from 1914 while he decided that from what had appeared in the evidence this sum of $300 claimed to be due July 5, 1915 was not due and payable. After the court had rendered his decision the parties got together and effected a compromise. This compromise according to Mr. Hairgrove was that his client Bacon paid to Wagstaff the sum of $300 on this year's rent and did not pay the $56 on last year's rent and Wagstaff was also to pay the costs.

The entries made follow:

Peoples.
People vs Frank Wainwright obtaining money under false pretenses. Continued with alias writ.
Same vs Eugene Kurman, forgery. Nolle entered on motion of state attorney.
Same vs Eugene Kiernan, forgery. Same order.
Same vs Ernest Nunes and Harry Williams, same order.
Same vs William H. Frye, burglary and larceny. Continued with alias.
Same vs Elizabeth Carter and John Carter, arson. Case set for trial Nov. 29, 1915.
Same vs Clyde Payne alias Crover C. Cochran, alias C. C. Cochran, forgery. Nolle entered on motion of state's attorney.
Same vs Reuben Jones, assault to kill. Cause set for trial Nov. 22, 1915.
Same vs Allen Snarly and Joseph Sams, burglary. Defendants appear in court and are furnished with a copy of the indictment, a list of witnesses and jurors. Defendant Sams waives trial by jury and enters plea of guilty. Court finds defendant to be 19 years of age and sentenced him to the Illinois State Reformatory until discharged according to law. In the case of Searley the same order was entered, the defendant entering a plea of guilty and waiving trial by jury.
Same vs Art Andrews, Mike Hopper and Lloyd Hare, burglary and larceny. Paul D. Morfarty appointed to defend Lloyd Hare.
Chancery.
Flora B. Thompson as administratrix vs the estate of Fenton B. Thompson. Partition. L. O. Vaughn appointed guardian ad litem for all infant defendants.
Anna Moss vs Richard Moss. Divorce. Decree for divorce and custody of child signed and approved.

EXPECT RECORD-BREAKING CROWD AT CHICAGO-ILLINOIS GAME

Maroon Officials Disclaim All Responsibility for Tickets Reaching Brokers.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—The demand for tickets to the Chicago-Illinois crowd exceeding that of the Michigan football game next Saturday caused officials today to predict that a crowd exceeding that of the Michigan game here ten years ago would attend, setting a new record for attendance at Sagg field.

Tickets which fell into the hands of speculators were reported to be selling at double their face value. All responsibility for the tickets reaching the brokers was disclaimed by the Maroon officials. They declared they had taken pains to prevent it, denying requests for more than six tickets to any individual.

The University of Illinois bought 4,700 tickets, the Illinois club of Chicago took 600 and fraternities and other organizations took smaller numbers but no know scalpers were sold large batches. It was said in an effort to keep the gridiron dry and fast so that his speedy backs can do their best, Coach Stagg today ordered straw strewn deeply each night to protect it from rain and snow. Secret practice for the Maroons will be void of much strenuous work as might cause accidents.

"ONLY ATE RAW EGGS" SAYS LADY

Mrs. Clara Van Natten Suffered From Indigestion and Stomach Trouble.

TANLAC RELIEVED HER.

"I almost feel like another person," said Mrs. Clara VanNatten, who resides at 1226 Brown street, Springfield, Ill., while discussing Tanlac, the "Master Medicine," now being introduced in Jacksonville, and the great relief which she had obtained from the use of this preparation.

"Before I heard of Tanlac," continued Mrs. VanNatten, "my whole system was in a most deplorable condition. This came about from a weak stomach and inability of my digestive organs to take care of my food properly, which trouble was of long standing. My sleep was never sound and I felt weak and worn out most of the time. I had about given up hopes of obtaining any relief when I saw Tanlac advertised and decided to try a bottle.

"I bought a bottle of the medicine and began its use. The results were a great surprise to me. I feel so much better and seem to have new life and energy. Before I began taking Tanlac I could only eat raw eggs and drink a little milk without fear of suffering, but now I can enjoy radishes and other foods that are hard to digest, without the least inconvenience.

"It gives me the greatest of pleasure to recommend Tanlac, as it has brought me wonderful relief and I am sure it will help anyone who is troubled as I was."
Tanalac, the "Master Medicine," is now being sold in Jacksonville at the drug store of Coover & Shreve.—Adv.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

ABSENCE OF EXPORT DEMAND GIVES WHEAT A SETBACK

Demoralized Conditions Which Export Trade Has Encountered Causes Drop—Corn Maintains Stubborn Front.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Demoralized conditions which the export trade has encountered as a result of the Italian government withdrawing for military purposes a number of steamships gave a setback today to the value of wheat. Closing prices, although steady, showed a net decline of 3c to 1 1/4c with December at $1.04 1/4 @ 1.04 1/2 and May at $1.06 1/4. Corn lost 3c to 1 1/4c and oats 3c to 3 1/2c.

Provisions finished at a range varying from 5c decline to a rise of 2 1/2c. Sharp falling off in receipts at Minneapolis had considerable effect in preventing wheat bears from becoming more aggressive and so also did the unsettled weather. Besides the Liverpool market was firm. Absence of export demand, however, finally became too evident to allow any immediate return of strength on the bull side.

Corn maintained a stubborn front in view of the break in wheat. Unfavorable weather and the chances of a shortage of cars tended to uphold prices. Oats merely reflected the changes in quotations on corn. Trade here was almost entirely local but the seaboard sent word of 100,000 bushels taken for export.

In provisions buying on the part of packers led to a nearly complete rally. At first the market had been decidedly weak owing to such enlarged receipts of hogs.

"ELEVEN" SOCIAL OF CLASS OF CONCORD CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Sunday School Organization Gives a Program and Entertainment at the Home of Mrs. L. H. Plank.

The Eleven social, given by the class of the Concord Christian Sunday school on the eleventh day of the eleventh month, 1915, proved to be quite an event for the class, and was held at the beautiful home of Mrs. L. H. Plank, about two miles west of Concord.

The guests, 185 in number began to arrive a little after dark, and kept coming until the house was pretty full. Each member of the class had the privilege of having nine guests. Each guest was invited to bring eleven cents and receive an eleven-fold welcome. Every 11th person entering was tagged and admitted free, by Wm. Goffinet, door keeper. The early part of the evening was spent getting acquainted, while Miss Alma Detorling and Mrs. Artie Ham gave piano duets. The pleasant rooms were tastefully decorated in purple and white streamers and chrysantheums to match these, being the class colors. The class has been organized three years and is officered as follows: Teacher, George J. R. Wolff; president, Mrs. Ella Abernathy; vice president, Mrs. Flora Johnson; secretary, Mrs. Bertha Bayless; treasurer, Mrs. Olive Morrison.

The class motto is: "Work and Win." The class colors are purple and white. The roll of members is as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Bayless.
Mr. and Mrs. E. Abernathy.
Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Morrison.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Goffinet.
Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Hamm.
Mr. and Mrs. Warren Blimling.
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Abernathy.
Mr. and Mrs. C. Loughery.

Miss Eva Abernathy.
Miss Nellie Buchanan.
Mrs. Ethelyn Plank.
Mrs. Etta Perlick.
Mrs. Della Fox.

Mrs. Flora Johnson.
Mrs. Grace Ator.
Mrs. Nellie Newlen.
Mrs. Nellie Ham.
Mrs. Roe.

Miss L. E. Henderson.
Miss Alma Detorling.
The program began at 8:11 and was as follows.

Prayer by Rev. A. L. Cain, Concord M. P. Church.

Class song—Follow Me.
Recitation—Theresa Hamm.
Recitation—Mae Johnson.

Solo—Merle Abernathy.
Recitation—Elinora Brockhouse.

Recitation—Warren Brockhouse.
Song—Edra Plank.

Piano duet—The Misses Quigg.
Solo—Roy Abernathy.
Trio—Piano and harp—Mrs. T. L. Morrison, C. O. Bayless and Jesse Morrison.

Song—Marguerite Goffinet.

After the regular program two contests were held which created a lot of fun. In the Black Cat contest, Mrs. Magill, wife of Doctor Magill of Concord won first prize. In the Turkey Game, Addie Fox of Chapin won first prize. Supper was served in the dining room by the ladies of the class. Eleven things to eat were served as follows:

Chicken sandwiches.
Peanut sandwiches.
Potato salad.
Pickles.
Apples.
Cake.
Coffee.
Cream.
Sugar.
Wine.
Water.

The guests came from Concord, Chapin, Arenzville and vicinity and some were invited that could not be present. The oldest guest was Mrs. Conover aged 84. The program was good and those taking part were generously applauded for their efforts. A neat sum was added to the bank account of the class, but the best part of all was the bringing together of so many good people from the different neighborhoods that they might become better acquainted. This class deserves great credit for what they have accomplished in the time they have been organized. Besides increasing the interest and attendance in the school, they have donated liberally to the church work and their bank account will not run very soon. Having found the "path of life," they are in a position to show others, using the best "Guide Book" obtainable—the Bible. While enjoying the hospitality of the kind hostess and the class in general, the guests could well say, "In thy presence is fullness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore."

WILL NOT ASK ASSURANCE OF IMMUNITY AS A FAVOR

Washington, Nov. 15.—No belligerent power will be asked by the United States to grant as a favor assurance of immunity from seizure for ships flying the American flag. This was made plain today by state department officials in response to inquiries as to the department's attitude toward the request of the Trans-Atlantic Steamship line that special representations be made to Great Britain in behalf of the Steamship Winnebago, now held at Buenos Aires, for fear the British cruiser might seize her on the ground of German ownership.

NATIONAL BANK CLOSES.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Comptroller Williams announced tonight that the First National Bank of Bristol, S. D., capitalized at $25,000, surplus $7,000, and deposits approximately $191,000, had closed today as "the result of defalcations involving officers of the bank."

IN INTEREST OF GOLF AT NICHOLS PARK

PARK BOARD MEMBERS AND OTHERS VISIT GROUNDS.

Footbridge to Be Built at Altan Railroad Bridge, and Much Dirt to Be Used in Filling—Other Plans Talked Over at Business Session.

Several members of the park board and some gentlemen interested in golf visited Nichols park Tuesday and looked over the ground and had a lengthy and very pleasant consultation. It was unanimously agreed that the ideal plan would be as follows. A footbridge from pier to pier of the Altan railroad bridge, a walk along the road's grade, and a few loads of dirt dropped by said road at the side of its grade on both sides of the lake. The land immediately north of the lake and just east of the railroad, and in fact, pretty well down to the park bridge, is low and sometimes well nigh inaccessible and drainage and filling would be a fine thing there.

South of the lake the small crest or knob would be well sheared down and the dirt used to fill in somewhat along the west lagoon. Then there should be drainage, a ditch from the end of the lagoon all the way to the south line of the park and of good size; the perpendicular edges of the driveway east of that part of the lagoon beveled down and the dirt used to fill in along the lagoon or western extension of the lake southward. This would reclaim the low land alongside the lagoon.

The north side of the lake would also bear some dirt which could be secured by cutting down the hill north of the gun club house. The east lagoon or extension of the lake has a lot of low land on both sides. A suitable ditch extending southward and a lot of dirt taken from the side of the driveway would do well for filling along the sides of this part of the lake and west of the playground.

An Airslide.

Then as an airslide for the sweet by and bye to dream of would be a handsome suspension footbridge just south of the pavilion. If that were erected next year there is a certain gentleman who says he will contribute to the work. William H. A. has been a hard working member of the board and his dream would be a fine thing fulfilled. Then a golf course would be extended across the lake near the railroad bridge on the south well to the boundaries of the park, east to the second or eastern lagoon and then doubling back would again cross the lake and on to its termination. This the gentlemen interested in golf were sure would leave little to be desired.

The park board will give the matter careful consideration and will have a meeting to which the gentlemen interested in golf are to be invited when the matter will have due attention.

There has been a disposition in some quarters to criticize rather severely the park board for its unwillingness to appropriate money for golf while the cash expended for preparing for baseball and the like have been held up as glaring examples of expenditure in contrast with nothing for golf. A little attention to the facts would dispel these insinuations.

Friendly to Golfers.

The park board has always been most friendly to golf playing. When the country club grounds west of the city were abandoned the park board assured the promoters of that enterprise that they would be most welcome on the park grounds with their golf course and the question on which they divided was the clubhouse, the handsome and commodious structure on the club grounds and which the owners desired removed to the park. The board would gladly have given it space on the park grounds but were wholly unable to do so as all such structures on the grounds must be open to the general public.

The deer park was paid for almost wholly by private subscription and when unfortunately the deer were killed it seemed but justice to those who had contributed to the park fence to put some other animals in there and elk were selected as they were able to fight dogs.

Little or nothing has been expended for baseball exclusively. The roadway across the east lagoon would be demanded if there were no baseball park as access to all parts of the park is essential. The expense of that roadway has been vastly increased by the unprecedentedly wet season just passed.

Golf Course.

The game of golf at the park has not been undertaken until the present fall and not once has any one interested in that game come to any meeting to ask anything of the park board. When the matter of locating the present course was under discussion several members of the board consulted with the gentlemen interested in golf regarding the location and it was suggested at that time that the course begin just west of the entrance and close just east of it going around the pavilion and the east side of the ground so as to avoid crossing the walks and driveway north of the pavilion which might be dangerous to others. The golfers at that time were assured that they were wholly welcome to use the grounds as much as they desired but that the board was not in a condition to expend any money for them, much as it would like to do them.

When it was decided to hold the annual Chautauqua on the park grounds the wooden bridge across the lake was wholly inadequate and a new one was demanded and had the board put in a wooden affair it would have just been open to severe criticism. The present structure is a credit to the place but it cost a lot of money and the present board inherited a heavy debt in consequence. Then, at the urgent behest of the mayor more than a thousand dollars was expended in an eating pavilion and toilet accommodations near the Chautauqua grounds; improvements very essential but costly and today the park board is more than two thousand dollars in debt, and regards further liabilities dubiously.

Taxes for Park.

When the park tax was voted it was understood that it was all to be used on Nichols park and it was thus used until a few years ago when the council decided the fund must care for all the parks of the city and even the space about the impounding reservoir and added to that they have been duly notified that they must pay for the street pavement in front of Duncan park. It is the ardent wish of all the board to do all possible to promote the entertainment and welfare of the people of the city and vicinity and they are only actuated by a desire to seek the greatest good for the greatest number.

Joseph H. Alexander of Springfield spent Tuesday in the city on business.

WIVES AND MOTHERS.

Have you ever stopped to realize how much the health of your family depends upon you? For instance, diet is a great factor in health, and you are responsible for it, then again when any member of your family gets into a run-down condition, when the children are delicate, cross and ailing, when somebody takes cold and develops a cough, they look to you for help. Do you know that your local druggist, Lee P. Allcott, has a non-secret constitutional remedy, known as Vinol which he guarantees for just such conditions. Many families in this vicinity have found it so reliable they are never without it.—Advertisement.

WOMAN'S INFLUENCE IN POLITICS DISCUSSED

REV. M. L. PONTIUS ADDRESSED HOUSEHOLD SCIENCE CLUB ON THIS THEME.

Letters Read by Mrs. Henry W. English Gave Views of Prominent Men—Program One of Special Interest.

The meeting of the Household Science club Tuesday was held at the home of Mrs. Henry W. English on West College avenue, with Mrs. E. S. Greenleaf as the hostess. The announcement that Rev. M. L. Pontius would address the club on "Woman's Influence in Politics" was sufficient to cause an unusually large attendance. The address was one which the members of the club found thoroughly interesting, giving evidence of the extensive study Rev. Mr. Pontius has made of the subject. Mr. Pontius' finds in the interest women are taking in politics one of the hopeful signs of the times, and in his address gave reasons for the expectation that better days in politics and in civic life generally can be confidently hoped for because of the wide influence of the women of today. Many of the club women declared after the address that it was one of the finest they had ever heard delivered. Mrs. Frank Byrns presided during the afternoon and the opening number was a violin solo by Mrs. John Miller, who played with artistic excellence. Sonate Allegro Amabile Opus 100 by Brahms. Miss Bellatti was her accompanist. Mrs. Henry W. English then read a number of letters which had come in answer to inquiries sent to obtain firsthand information of the position of prominent men on the question of the influence of women in politics.

Gov. Dunne Defines Position.

Gov. Edward F. Dunne wrote, "I believe the influence of women in politics will prove to be of material advantage to this state. I noted when in Chicago recently a much larger attendance of women at public meetings and an improvement in the atmosphere surrounding the same. Smoking at public meetings has almost entirely disappeared and speakers are treated with more respect. I noted the same atmosphere around the polls. I believe that the refining and elevating influence of women which has always been felt in the home will also be felt in politics."

John G. Murray, bishop of Maryland, writing from Baltimore, said: "I really have no special views on the subject of woman's influence in politics further than to believe that no matter where good women exercise their influence it will always result in improvement and proper progress. Just what part women should take and how far they should go in their participation in political affairs I have not given the subject sufficient thought to determine for myself, consequently my views would be of little service to you at this time."

Congressman Henry T. Rainey wrote, "I voted in congress for the women's suffrage measure and expect to keep on voting that way. I know of no reason why the accident of sex should keep either sex from participating in public matters and from exercising their preferences at the polls. Voting is a privilege, not a right, and has always been so considered. There ought to be some way of restricting the right to vote but there should in my judgment be no discrimination on the ground of sex. I would like to see an educational discrimination of some kind. I do not know just what it should be, however. I think that any woman who is willing to admit that she is 21 years old and who is in possession of her mental faculties ought to be allowed to vote unless she has committed some crime—such a crime as would bar a man from voting. So far as the influence of woman on politics is concerned, it cannot in my judgment fail to be anything but desirable—in fact they are exercising an excellent influence now."

Other Views.

John W. McGrath, secretary for Theodore Roosevelt, wrote that it was impossible for Mr. Roosevelt to comply with the request for a personal expression on the subject. Enclosed however was a clipping which quoted Mr. Roosevelt as follows, "The opponents of woman's suffrage say that it will take women away from the home. If this were so, I certainly would not favor it. Just as if giving man the suffrage took him away from his business I should not favor. For making and keeping the home must always be the chief work of both man and woman. There is nothing whatever in this objection."

E. J. Connelly, assistant secretary to his Eminence, Cardinal Gibbons, wrote that the cardinal was away and could not answer the question personally. Enclosed with this letter were clippings which gave expression to Cardinal Gibbons' well known views upon the subject. He wrote at one time, "I still hold the same view on woman's suffrage already so often expressed, that the ballot would drag woman from her domestic duties into the arena of politics and rob her of much of her charm, goodness and true influence. She is, indeed a princess, but her God-given rule should lie in domestic and gentler fields and ways. We all believe that she has been so successful in her work there that we fear any change by the carrying of her government into the political field."

Following the reading of these letters, Rev. Mr. Pontius was introduced.

Woman's Constant Aid.

"Everything that man has done worthy of mention," the speaker said, "everything that he has accomplished for the welfare of the human race has been due not to his unaided efforts but to the influence and power of some woman as well. Woman, whether wife, mother, sister or friend has ever stood behind him in his works most worth while and most successful. One secret of our advancement today is to be found in our recognition of the rights and position of woman. A time there was when woman was thought to be inferior to man, when she had no rights and but few privileges that it behooved man to respect. The civilizations of Rome, of Greece, and of early Judea—people who failed to accord woman her true place—have passed away, showing that when a nation fails to recognize the rights, influence and powers of woman it makes an irreparable mistake. From nothing is it harder for a nation or people to recover than from moral error, for when a grave moral mistake is committed, the handwriting on the wall is seen and its continuation spells sure defeat."

"The heritage of the twentieth century to the race will be moral emancipation and moral reform. Of this process one of the chief factors will be the just recognition of woman, her rights, her privileges and her powers. Were the full right of suffrage granted to woman she would suffer a definite degradation of character, is the cry often heard when the subject of universal suffrage is broached. The effeminate man and the masculine woman we have with us always, and I fail to see how activity in civic affairs will injure woman or mar her character. Illinois was among the pioneer states to grant the ballot to woman and no sooner was this done than there arose the cry that contamination of character would follow and that woman would lose her queenly virtues and feminine characteristics. Thus has it always been said, when in the march of progress, bars have been let down and age-long barriers removed to woman's advancement. Higher education, teaching in our schools and colleges, bearing heavy burdens of responsibility in our commercial and business life, have in no wise injured woman, altho by many men it was prophesied otherwise. If these things have not degraded woman the sacred right of suffrage will in no wise drag her down."

"Better legislation has always been the result when the influence of woman has been injected into the political field. The purest and holiest influences of this world come from the mother, wife and sister in the home. In the east the one great factor in defeat of suffrage was due to activity on the part of the liquor traffic and its allies. Where women have exercised the franchise all bills and measures proposed by them to council or legislature so far as I know have always had their aim in human betterment. With man's influence in politics for many years supreme, many measures and bills have been introduced and passed which have not been good for the common weal. The double moral standard must go as women receive the right of franchise with pure minds, clean hearts and virtuous lives. Our women know that for every fallen woman there is a fallen man. Give our women an influence in shaping civic ideals and the double standard will disappear forever."

"Woman's influence in politics has never failed to purify and more and more will this fact become apparent as her rights are better recognized and she is politically unshackled. The exercise of the right of suffrage and the bearing of a load of civic responsibility will strengthen and develop the personality of woman and as she responds to the calls and duties of citizenship a greater ability will be hers to influence the lives of women and the lives of men for continued good. The standard of its women is the standard of the world, and by her conscientious entrance into civic duty will woman assist our country in realizing completely our true mission and making the more certain that a 'government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth.'"

Following the address, members spent a delightful social hour.

RECEIVES EMBROIDERED GIFT FROM CHINESE MISSIONARY

Mrs. Elizabeth R. Litter, 1326 West State street, received Tuesday the gift of a fine piece of Chinese embroidered work from the Rev. E. P. Gish, a former pastor of the Christian church in Litterberry who for fourteen months past has been doing missionary work in Nanking, China, and studying the language in Nanking university. The pattern, which is worked in varicolored silk, represents a scene in which there stands a group of Chinese dignitaries and the piece, according to Mrs. John L. Brandt, who had opportunity to inspect it Tuesday evening, and who has travelled extensively in China, is an excellent example of artistic Chinese needlecraft.

ADDRESSES CHICAGO CLUB.

Miss Anne Hinchey Monday addressed the Chicago Woman's club regarding observations and incidents in the course of her work as inspector of institutions for the state charities' commission. The Chicago club is perhaps the most influential single body of club women in the state and the request for the address was regarded by the speaker as no little honor.

MRS. J. H. DAVIS DEAD AT HOME IN LYNCHBURG, VA.

Deceased Was Miss Edith Wolcott Before Her Marriage—Burial Will be in Diamond Grove.

A telegram received Tuesday by a relative in this city, announced the death Tuesday a. m. of Mrs. Edith (Wolcott) Davis, wife of Prof. John Herbert Davis of Lynchburg, Virginia.

The death of Mrs. Davis was not unexpected; it followed a long, severe illness of about three years duration.

Mrs. Davis was born in Springfield, Ill., December 19th, 1850; she was the daughter of Elizabeth Wolcott and Martha (Dwight) Wolcott, who removed to Jacksonville when their daughter, Edith, was but a child. She was married in this city on the 22nd day of December, 1897, to Prof. Davis, who at that time was at the head of the Illinois Conservatory of Music in this city. In 1899 Prof. Davis became the head of the Musical Department of Macon-Randolph College at Lynchburg, Virginia, which position he still holds.

Of Mrs. Davis' immediate family there now remain only three persons, namely: a sister, Mrs. May Clapp, wife of Prof. Edward B. Clapp, Professor of Greek in the University of California, formerly Professor of Greek in Illinois College; and two nieces, daughters of Prof. and Mrs. Clapp, Marian and Edith, the former now the wife of Captain Richard Stewart Brandt, of the 17th Leicestershire Regiment, England, and the latter the wife of John Cedric Snook of California.

The body of Mrs. Davis will be brought to Jacksonville for interment in Diamond Grove cemetery where her parents are buried.

Jacksonville Lodge No. 570 A. F. & A. M. will hold a special meeting this afternoon at 2 o'clock for work. Lunch at 6 o'clock, further refreshments after the work. Visiting brethren welcome.

DR. BRANDT WILL SPEAK TONIGHT ON THREE IMPORTANT SUBJECTS

The Intermediate State, Future Recognition to Be Discussed in Addition to Announced Topic at Christian Revival.

Services this evening at the Central Christian Church revival series will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock and in addition to the sermon subject announced, "Christ Seeking the Lost," the Rev. John L. Brandt will discuss, briefly and to the point, the subjects of the intermediate state or "where shall we go when death comes," and the future recognition of those who have passed on before. The title of the illustrated song will be "The Holy City."

Tuesday night the subject of Dr. Brandt was "A Precious Invitation." "No other religion offers the invitation to come to a God of Love and tender mercy," he said. Before the sermon Miss Nelle F. Self sang a solo, "His Tender Care Is Over All." "Come, take up your cross and follow me," is the invitation extended to all Christians. "The Spirit and the bride say come," "For all things are now ready," and "Come let us reason together," enjoins the book of books. Our God is the only God of reason and our Bible is the only Bible of reason.

"Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden," says the Lord. No rest may come from honor, wealth or fame. Many of the world's greatest humorists even have, underneath the outward appearance been burdened with no real rest. "Are you ready to meet Him, will you not come?"

Six were immersed at a brief baptismal service which followed the regular service last night.

Her husband died about five years ago. She is survived by eight children.

The funeral will be held Thursday at Columbia, at 10:15 o'clock. Mrs. Degen expects to attend.

JOHN HENRY MUST SERVE A TWENTY YEAR TERM

PARDON BOARD FIXES HIS SENTENCE FOR THAT PERIOD.

Report That Morgan County Man Had Been Released From Chester Erroneous—Woodson Tragedy in Which Three Lost Lives Is Recalled.

An Associated Press telegram from Springfield to the Journal last night stated that the board of pardons had set the sentence of John W. Henry of this county at twenty years flat. This means that under the order of the board Henry must serve a full term of twenty years and cannot be released from the penitentiary before that time, notwithstanding good behavior.

A report circulated Tuesday afternoon was to the effect that the board had consented to the release of Henry after his having served a period of sixteen months. A statement to this effect was carried by the United Press. The information given papers served by the Associated Press and the International News Service contradicts that statement. Henry was sentenced to Chester penitentiary in June, 1914 after he had entered a plea of guilty in three cases to the charge of manslaughter. He thus confessed to the killing of Charles Ezard, Everett Crain and Howard Crain on the night of Jan. 27, 1914.

It was known that an effort has been made for some time to secure the release of Henry and the report yesterday that this had been accomplished occasioned considerable surprise. It had previously been understood that Henry could not possibly be released from the penitentiary under existing laws until he had served a period of at least thirty-three months. He was sent to the penitentiary under an indeterminate sentence and the law provides as a minimum a year for each of the three cases to which he pleaded guilty with the possible allowance of a month on each charge because of good behavior.

Since he has been at the penitentiary he has been employed in the dining room and his conduct has been such as to warrant calling him a model prisoner. Nevertheless it seems that the board of pardons after reviewing the record of his case determined that a term of twenty years would be fit punishment for the crime.
